

Fall Caddie Training Program

What: Caddie Training Program featuring a combination of online and on-course programming

Why: The First Tee of Cleveland Caddie Training Program is designed to educate kids 14 to 18 on the basics of caddying.

Classes are a mix of online and on-course application. Participants will view a caddie training video online, participate in Zoom sessions, and actually caddie a live round for a First Tee of Cleveland volunteer at Washington Golf Course in Newburgh Heights. During that process, the trained volunteer will provide instant feedback, insight and advice to help the young person succeed as a caddie.

Participants will also come back in the spring and participate in a “refresher” caddie class where they will once again caddie for a First Tee volunteer on course with the volunteer providing advice, insight and encouragement. From there we will begin to promote the caddie class participants to local clubs and help advocate for a caddie class participants’ hiring. In no way can we guarantee employment, but we are happy to be a reference, write letters of recommendation, and advocate for the young person based on their performance in class.

When:

Week of September 14: The caddie class video will be available for viewing.

September 14 - September 21: Participants view the video and participate in one of two scheduled Zoom question and answer sessions. Specific dates and times to be determined based on availability of participants.

September 21 - October 12: Participants will schedule their on course caddie experience. Coach Brian will coordinate between volunteer coaches and participants’ families to come up with agreed upon dates and times.
